SOLDIERS ARRIVE

GLENDALE BOYS ARE WITH 143D ARTILLERY NOW ON LEAVE FROM CAMP KEARNY

Thursday was a great day for the boys of the 143d Artillery, who reached Los Angeles ahead of their schedule. It was a day of swelling hope and pride for the thousands who gathered to welcome them, for they arrived in the pink of condition with no sign of fatigue and realized the soldier ideal to the complete satisfaction of all who beheld them. They were dusty and showed signs of travel, but their bodies and spirits were not worn, and their parade through the cheering multitudes who thronged the sidewalks and filled the parked automobiles was more interesting than if it had been a dress parade, such as will take place this afternoon, because the dust-covered guns and packs more resembled war conditions.

It was a triumphal progress in which they were cheered and pelted with flowers from Montebello on and when they reached the outskirts of the city they were served to lunch. Their conduct was so fine throughout the entire march that their leave has been extended to nine days and the public has been asked to arrange no functions as a regiment after Monday in order that the boys may have a few days in which they are free to choose their individual private pleasures.

Glendale boys were well represented in the line of march, and Glendale was also well represented in the crowd of spectators. The soldier list includes Sergeant Lewis Leppelman, Corporal Fred Horner, Corporal James Gibson, in Battery F of the Field Artillery, J. T. Beach, Corporal William Bode and Corporal Herbert Henning in the regimental band. Harry Spink is also with the boys.

Last night the friends of Battery F gave them a dance at Hotel Abbey on Figueroa street. Tomorrow afternoon (Saturday) there will be field day exercises at Exposition Park, fancy drills and evolutions, and Saturday night the Regimental Ball will take place at the Shrine Auditorium. The 143d Artillery Band will play and Madame Hesse-Sprotte will sing, one of her numbers being an original unpublished song entitled "Sons of the Flag" by Gertrude Ross of Los Angeles, who will furnish the accompaniment. The tickets for this dance are considerably placed at a very low figure and any proceeds there may be after defraying expenses will be turned over to the Red Cross Fund of the Friday Morning Club, which is helping to arrange the affair.

Sunday morning the boys will attend a religious service at the Shrine Auditorium and Monday they will be entertained at Venice, all concessions being free to the soldiers, with a dance in their honor in the evening. All the Los Angeles theatres are giving free tickets to the soldiers, and Los Angeles and suburbs are doing their utmost to give the boys a good time before they are called to the sterner duties of real war.

The News will be glad to have a list of all soldiers who are here and hopes parents and friends will telephone the news. The boys are permitted to visit their homes at night but must report to camp in the morning.

WED IN NEW YORK

MISS ELEANOR WHITING MARRIES LIEUT. CHESTER TWINNING OF FLYING SCHOOL

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Whiting of 1442 West First street, this city, have received a telegram announcing the marriage of their daughter Eleanor to Lieutenant Chester Twining of the U. S. Army Flying School of Memphis, Tenn. The news was not unexpected as the engagement of the young people was known and approved. The Twining and Whiting families are friends of long standing and the young people came together quite naturally. The Lieutenant is a splendid specimen of young manhood, as are all who are accepted for this service, which so severely tests the nerve and physique of its followers. The fact that he has received a commission as Lieutenant in the Flying Corps stamps him as a man above the average. As soon as he won his commission and received leave of absence he went to New York and was quietly married there May 29th, he and his bride leaving at once on a wedding tour. Mr. and Mrs. Whiting expect that he will soon be summoned for service across the water, but of course have no definite knowledge of what he may be called upon to do. They are well pleased with their new son and entirely satisfied with the marriage.

TROPICO WATER PLANT

OFFICIALLY BECOMES A PART OF GLENDALE MUNICIPAL SYSTEM

June 1st will mark the completion of the plans started last February for the purchase of the Tropico water system. Excepting some unexpected delay, this system will be officially taken over and become a part of the City of Glendale's municipal water system on this day.

The procedure in connection with this purchase has been pushed through as rapidly as possible. The election on this question was held March 19, 1918, at which time the people expressed themselves as being unanimously in favor of the undertaking. Since then no time has been lost except that actually required for the transaction.

This water system will be operated by Public Service Department of the City of Glendale, in connection with their present water and electric systems. The water rate now charged by the City of Glendale will become immediately effective in this district.

WALK IN THE LIGHT

There was a large attendance Thursday morning at the special service in First Church of Christ, Scientist, held in compliance with President Wilson's appointment of May 30th as a day of prayer. At this service the President's proclamation was read, also references suitable to the occasion from the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

The following was quoted from the Christian Science Sentinel of May 25, 1918: "At this time when the thought of the world is being turned toward sacrifice and suffering toward the realities of spirit, Christian Scientists should strive to gain the deep spiritual import of Mrs. Eddy's 'Prayer for Country and Church.' (Christian Science versus Pantheism, p. 14.) Mrs. Eddy has pointed out that 'prayer means that we desire to walk and will walk in the light so far as we receive it, even though with bleeding footsteps' (Science and Health, 10:1-3), and that 'the highest prayer is not one of faith merely, it is demonstration' (ibid 16:2-4)."

DEATH OF JOHN LEWENSTEIN

John Lewenstein passed away at his home, 107 East Third street, Friday, May 31, at 7:30. Mr. Lewenstein had been living in Glendale but a short time, having moved from La Crescenta, where he had resided for many years and where he was highly esteemed. The deceased was a jeweler. He was born in Germany but had lived in California for forty years. He leaves a widow to mourn his death. His age was 71 years, 3 months and 27 days.

Funeral services will be held at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors, 920 West Broadway, Glendale, Monday, June 3, at 2 p. m. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Friday night at the Elks' Club the local representatives in the Southern California Elks Bowling League will open the season with Pasadena as their opponents. This is the start of a tournament to determine the championship of the state.

All the lodges in the southern jurisdiction are competing among themselves, the winner to meet the northern champions at San Diego next fall. Glendale is to be represented by Stone, Hearnshaw, Violi, Fortunato and Ward.

Dr. Chase, who is manager for the team, promises that his club will make it interesting for all competitors and the lodge that wins will have to beat Glendale for first place.

PATRIOTIC CONCERT RETURNS

The returns from the patriotic concert given May 20 in the High School auditorium under the auspices of the British Ambulance society for the benefit of that society and the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross, are announced by Herman Nelson, treasurer of the British Ambulance society, as follows:

Door receipts	$31.75
Ticket sales and money donated	39.25
Total	$71.00

The advertising on the programs paid all expenses, so the above amount was entirely clear and was divided equally between the British Ambulance and Red Cross societies.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday. Light westerly winds.

GERMANS CELEBRATE CORPUS CHRISTI

WRECK HOSPITALS AND CHURCHES ON DAY BRITISH AGREE NOT TO RAID GERMAN TOWNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, May 31.—On Corpus Christi Day when the British agreed not to raid any German towns not in the war zone at the request of German church authorities, Germany's long range guns resumed the bombardment of Paris, killing and wounding eighteen and destroying a church.

ON THE PICARDY FRONT, May 31.—On Corpus Christi evening German aviators attacked three hospitals in the rear of the American area. They not only bombed hospitals but sweeping low fired into hospital tents with machine guns. The area is strictly a hospital settlement.

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, May 31.—German airmen on Corpus Christi day bombed British hospitals far behind our lines, killing women nurses, doctors and patients and wrecking a building.

AMERICANS MAKE AIR RECORD

EDDIE RICKENBACHER DOWNS GERMAN PLANE AND SAVES COMPANION'S LIFE SECOND TIME

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICANS IN LORRAINE, May 31.—American airmen established a record of ten fights in an hour yesterday. Finding a companion diving for a German plane with another one following him, Lieut. Eddie Rickenbacher dived into the fray and drove off the enemy machines. Shortly afterward the same aviator, Lieut. Meissner, limping home with a broken wing, was attacked by five Germans, who saw that he was crippled. Again Rickenbacher downed one of the five, driving off Meissner's assailant and saving his life for the second time within an hour. The Americans downed four of the enemy planes.

SUCCESSFUL AMERICAN RAID

PENETRATE ENEMY THIRD LINE TRENCHES UNDER PERFECT BARRAGE DRIVING GERMANS BEFORE THEM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICANS IN LORRAINE, May 31.—An American raiding party penetrated the third German lines northwest of Toul this morning following an hour's terrific bombardment. The Yankees crossed No Man's Land behind a perfect barrage and swept over the enemy's trenches, the Germans fleeing before them. They explored the enemy trenches at their leisure and returned to their own lines with light losses.

275,000 MEN CALLED

EVERY STATE IN THE UNION WILL BE CALLED TO FURNISH QUOTA TO ENTRAIN JUNE 24

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Approximately 375,000 men will be drafted to entrain June 24, it was announced today. The call will be effective in every state. No official figures of quotas are available. Calls to these men are now in the mails.

FRENCH ARE CHECKING GERMAN ADVANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ON THE FRENCH FRONT, May 31.—The Germans are determined to capture Rheims although it is held on three sides. Military authorities believe the plan is to make a wide encircling movement to the southwest, hoping to surround the city. To do this they must capture several towns and break through the line at Ardre. Steadily arriving French reserves are slowing the advance and the enemy is entirely checked at most points. The roads at all points in the Soissons-Rheims are choked with refugees fleeing from the Hun peril. These people, who are of all stations, are sleeping in the open and eating only occasionally. Their flight resembles the exodus of the children of Israel. They carry their belonging on their backs, in carts, automobiles or baby carriages, for they are going—God knows where.

AMERICAN TRANSPORT IS TORPEDOED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Secretary Daniels announces that the American transport ship, "President Lincoln," homeward bound from Europe, was torpedoed and sunk an hour afterwards. The loss of life is believed to have been small. The Navy Department would give no further information.

FIFTEEN KILLED IN ACTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Today's casualty list contains the names of fifteen killed in action, six deaths from wounds, including George Aitkins of National City, Cal., and Leslie Stokely of Ellington, Cal., eleven accidental deaths, four deaths from disease, including Corp. Bert Lewis of Stockton, one missing, fifteen severely wounded and eight slightly wounded.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

TRIBUTE IS MADE TO UNKNOWN DEAD OF ALLIED NATIONS AT FOREST LAWN

With the most fearful battle of the world raging on the French front and American boys contributing their proportion of the toll of blood, it was but natural that the memorial services for the Nation's heroic dead should strike a deeply responsive chord in American hearts and draw many visitors to the cemeteries to participate in solemn exercises and pay their tributes of flowers.

All the cemeteries were thronged and at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, one of the most beautiful cities of the dead within the environs of Los Angeles, about 5000 came and went during the day. They averaged about eleven per minute and the P. E. ran three-car trains all day to accommodate the people.

The grounds were very beautiful as flowers were everywhere, informally massed and made into all conceivable forms, flags, crowns, crosses, shields, designs of every description which affection could suggest.

The afternoon program, which was attended by not less than 3000 people, opened with the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner," followed by prayer by Rev. W. C. Clatworthy of Glendale. An anthem was then sung by the choir of the Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles, with Ray Hastings at the organ. Marshal Stimson, who participated in the ceremonies as the representative of Governor Stephens, set forth the purpose of the service and of the symbolic grave which would be decorated as a tribute to the unknown dead of the allied nations.

The ritualistic service of the G. A. R. was then performed by N. P. Banks Post, followed by the recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Joseph Griffin of this city, representing the Sons of Veterans. Frank Booth contributed a vocal solo, and Rev. B. C. Cory, pastor of the Tropic Methodist Church, made the memorial address. A cornet solo by Grace Adams followed, and another address was made by Orma Monnette, president of the Sons of the American Revolution. A vocal solo by Harold Proctor met with such appreciation that he gave as an encore "Keep the Home Fires Burning," the audience joining in the chorus.

The decoration of the symbolic grave then took place, in which Louis Sentous, Jr., French Consul, Giovanni Plums, Italian Consul, and Charles Winsel, Belgian Consul, represented those nations and each gave a wreath for his country. Councilman Conaway represented the City of Los Angeles and Marshal Stimson, the Governor. Commander Clark of the N. P. Banks Post, escorted by the assembled veterans, placed the G. A. R. wreath, and Mrs. Louise Purnell, president of the Woman's Relief Corps, attended by color bearers Winona Crawford and Edith Bruck of this city, represented their organization at the ceremonial. The salute by the firing squad of the G. A. R. and "Taps," sounded by Commander Robinson, completed the exercises.

A sacred concert was held throughout the afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers, which was visited by at least three thousand people. George P. Miller of this city was the organist.

Committees from the local Red Cross organization served lunches for the comfort and convenience of visitors on Forest avenue near the entrance to the cemetery and realized about $50 for the cause.

RED CROSS JOTTINGS

Members of the Philanthropic Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club were at work in the surgical dressings department Wednesday, under direction of their chairman, Mrs. Warren Roberts. The ladies recently voted to give one day a month as an organization to work at Red Cross headquarters and the section has also undertaken to be responsible for the woolen dress department of the Conservation Department.

Mrs. A. S. Chase, chairman of packing, with the assistance of Mrs. Thaxter has been preparing a shipment to be forwarded to San Francisco this week.

Mrs. C. E. Harlan was in charge of surgical dressings work Wednesday, and ladies who worked under her supervision were Mrs. Edwar W. Pack, Miss Malvina M. Page, Mrs. L. H. Jenkins, Mrs. Z. Knee, Mrs. L. E. Harlan, Miss Leppelman, Mrs. C. B. Wilde, Mesdames A. R. Hildreth, F. J. Kuntzner, W. A. Reynolds, Henry Judd, C. L. Bullard, Warren Roberts, W. J. Stone, M. L. Bostwick, C. C. Stevenson, P. Spraker, Loreta McCoy, Mary Dalrymple, L. W. Sinclair and Mrs. Musselwhite.

LIFE IN AFRICA

WAR AFFECTS CONDITIONS IN THE COLONIES OF THE DARK CONTINENT

Guests of considerable distinction are entertained from time to time at the Glendale Sanitarium and Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson, who are guests here now, would be listed in that class by any one who knew of their experience. For twenty-three years they have been building for civilization in the heart of Africa which, on account of their efforts and those of their co-laborers, is no longer "Darkest Africa."

Rev. Anderson, who was originally a "Hoosier," like our own Mr. Lawshe, is still youthful in his vigor and enthusiasm. He tells a most interesting story of how political conditions in that continent have been changed by the war. It is but another phase of the struggle between oppressive autocracy and democracy.

Seventeen years ago the British conquered in the Boer war. Their rule has been so just, wise and generous, their policy has been so liberal, that they have won the confidence of the people both white and black. General Botha has been their prime minister there, and General Smuts has headed their colonial army. Two other generals in the Boer army who were pardoned were General Beyer and General Maritz. Two years before the present war broke out according to Mr. Anderson these generals were sent to England to study military tactics. After spending some time there they crossed the channel to Germany where the Kaiser gave them a private audience at Potsdam and at that audience persuaded them to enter into an agreement to start a rebellion in South Africa when he should inaugurate the world war. The generals returned to South Africa and at once began to plot to work up a following, but the majority of the people had discovered they were better off under English rule and so turned a deaf ear to the solicitation of the revolutionists. In the end they were able to muster only a very small force, made up of renegades and tribesmen from back districts, low in intelligence. After the war broke out General Beyer went to the Orange Free State to foment rebellion there and while fording the Orange river on horseback, he and his horse were

JUDGE CALLED AT MIDNIGHT

Judge Lowe was called from his bed Thursday at midnight to put under bonds and name a date for the trial of two offenders against law and order, arrested by officers Laurance and Lampert on Lomita avenue. The woman in the case endeavored to commit suicide, but her design was discovered and frustrated and the case will come up for trial next Wednesday morning. The parties involved are said to be German sympathizers.

DEFENDS CALIFORNIA

MRS. KEMPER CAMPBELL ASSURED EASTERN PEOPLE WE ARE LOYAL

Mrs. R. W. Meeker of this city attended by special invitation a meeting of the Mens' City Club of Los Angeles held a few days ago at which Mr. Hays, Republican candidate for governor from San Jose was the principal speaker. Mrs. Meeker was accompanied by her guest, Mrs. Stephen Packer, and about a dozen other ladies were present. They found it most interesting as the organization is a large and enthusiastic one. They greatly enjoyed Mr. Hays' speech and also enjoyed a talk which followed by Mrs. Kemper Campbell (formerly Miss Hibben of this city), who recently returned from Washington. Everywhere she went, she said, she met reproaches for California for not having waked up to the war. She finally told them in Washington that she would sue for libel any man, woman or child who put up any more of that sort of talk, because California had gone over the top on every call that had been made upon her. She found great confusion arising out of official red tape, especially with regard to Red Cross hospitals. The base hospital unit sent from Los Angeles is still awaiting official orders in Philadelphia, held back by red tape. On this account she and others interested with her are seeking to raise a fund to equip hospital units which can be sent direct to France independent of the hampering restrictions of officialdom, and the talk she made was a plea for the $50,000 which they wish to raise for this purpose in Los Angeles.

TRAITORS, SLACKERS, LOYALISTS

Taking as his text "And faithfulness shall be the girdle of his loins" (Isa. 11:5), Rev. C. A. Cole of the Christian Church preached on the above topic Sunday night. He said:

There are three great Loyalties with which every true man must gird himself:

I. Loyalty to the Nation.

That's a new word to this generation. We never knew its meaning before. We are of a nation that stands for liberty, equal rights before the law, brotherhood, love. We had not learned that to conserve these we might be called upon some day to sacrifice all. "Loyalty" meant a few days ago, "This is a free country. Get what you can, look out for yourself, and let the devil get the hindmost. Obey the law, pay your taxes, vote when occasion makes it easy and lay any blame on the grafter and politician."

What a new baptism into loyalty we are having these days! We've found that our country is a living, throbbing, Divine thing. To save it and through it this old world for God, you and I have got to display some real loyalty and lay ourselves out even unto death in our loyalty.

What stories of faithfulness these days are bringing to us! You read them every day. And it's not only among men. Women, who have concerned themselves, generally, but little about political and governmental affairs, are showing patriotism that shall go into history alongside the story of Joan of Arc—hundreds of them.

It hasn't been long since we heard it said many times that patriotism was in itself selfish. Perhaps, as Prof. Royce says, it was because our country is so large and our government so distant, that it seemed to the average American rather a guarantee for his own safety and the pursuance of his own individual ends, than an opportunity for loyalty. And now—the purpose of our great undertaking is so like the Christ's, laying down life for others; the principle for which we fight so noble, and the issues at stake so far-reaching and critical—that he who is not FOR is without any shadow of a doubt AGAINST. No man can plead ignorance of the issues and none but an idiot can fail to understand the principles involved.

However, the whole spirit of America has changed since our entrance into the war. We are beginning to see in our own nation the spirit which has characterized other nations stirring. So it has become true of many and many a man today of whom it was not true yesterday that "Loyalty is the girdle of his loins."

II. Loyalty to the Family.

And the good of the reawakening of national loyalty, let us hope, will not stop with it. Having once got the taste, let us trust that the other great loyalties will be stimulated by it.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC ASKS FOR AN INCREASE IN RATES

Because of the increase in costs of materials, and an additional raise in wages of more than $1,000,000 per annum since 1915, the Pacific Electric has filed application with the State Railroad Commission for a revision of its passenger rates.

This application is filed at the present time because of the pressing need for additional revenues required to meet the present increase in payroll expense, which increase has been made along the lines recommended by the Railroad Wage Commission and adopted by Secretary McAdoo, Director General of Railroads.

The report of the Railroad Wage Commission was made after careful study of living costs throughout the country and even though the Pacific Electric is itself not under Government control, this report could not in fairness be disregarded.

In its application the Pacific Electric asks that its revenues be placed upon a basis which will permit it to meet its payroll and the increase in cost of materials.

Mr. Paul Shoup said with reference to the application:

"We ask these increases in rates because of necessity. The Pacific Electric has not been earning its operating expenses, taxes and interest.

"The increased cost of operation (labor and material), the jitney and the use of the privately owned automobiles on good roads, have been the chief causes contributing to this result.

"The Pacific Electric depends upon passenger revenue for the major part of its living. Last year 73 per cent of all its revenue came from passengers who averaged 9 cent each. It had to give a great deal of service to get these earnings. Steam lines do not lean on their passenger revenues. In many cases they operate passenger service simply in response to public necessity and make little, if any, money. This is not true with the Pacific Electric. Like any other interurban and street railway system, we must look to our passenger revenue for the principal part of our earnings.

"Our operating expenses and taxes have greatly increased. The stockholders of the Pacific Electric have never received a dividend. In the meantime, in the business of serving this territory adequately every year we have been putting large sums of money in investments hardly ever less than seven figures. Part of this has been without any revenue return in sight, such as expenditures for street paving, wherein we have put millions in response to the public demand.

"From time to time the wages of our employees have been raised since the increased cost of living in 1915. First, a bonus of 10 per cent was paid to every employee receiving less than $200 per month. We then followed this with increased rates of pay. Effective June 1st we must raise the pay of all employees receiving less than $250 per month, on the basis of the recommendations of the Railroad Wage Commission. The Railroad Wage Commission's recommendations apply only to lines under Government control, which does not include the Pacific Electric Railway, but as these recommendations are based on investigation of the cost of living throughout the United States in 1915 compared with the cost of living at the present time, we look upon it as reasonable.

"As illustrating the cost of operation in 1915 compared with the coming month of June, our lowest paid passenger trainmen must receive 40 per cent higher wages than in December, 1915, and the highest paid, one third more than in December, 1915, these being the percentages of increases in the rates of pay. The last raise, effective June 1st, will be three and a half cents per hour.

"The cost of practically all materials used in maintenance and operation shows similar increases. In many cases the increases are much greater. Copper wire costs two and a half times what it did three years ago, and we are wearing lots of it out on our trolleys. Our tie renewals run into many thousands of ties a month. The cost has increased from 50 cents to $1.00 each within three years. All of these conditions must be met.

"After exercising all the economy possible, no way can be found to maintain the transportation service essential to this city and the territories we serve except through increases in passenger fares. We ask nothing unreasonable. The increased cost to any one passenger on our lines will under any condition be a very modest amount. As soon as possible we will file schedule of the increases with the State Railroad Commission and they will then, of course, be subject to public hearing and scrutiny before action.

"I do not remember of the Pacific Electric ever having gone before the Railroad Commission asking for any increase in rates in which there was any public interest, and I regret the necessity of doing so now, but all we have to sell is transportation and most of that is interurban and street car transportation.

"Like any other business, the elements of cost can not be overlooked in the sale of the product. The other electric lines in the state have all found themselves in the same condition. I understand that ten or eleven of them are now filing applications for increased fares. It may be of interest to know in this connection that we have less than 1½ cents per mile revenue from the passengers we carry and our individual commutation rates average probably not to exceed 2-3 cent a mile.

"We will ask also for some readjustment of service to which our transportation and traffic officers have been giving careful study for some months. These changes work to greater efficiency and even though they entail some inconvenience they will be found reasonable as conditions are now. We certainly can not sustain or excuse service under present conditions which the public does not find of sufficient value to patronize to the extent of the direct expense of giving it. Where service can be reasonably reduced we ask the public to co-operate with us under these war conditions. It will lessen our needs for increased rates. Further, while our employees are willing under these war conditions to give their utmost, we ask public co-operation in keeping their hours of work within reason, and less service will help, and this is no time for waste in equipment, man power, electric power, or money.

"The conditions surrounding electric railways in California have been adverse since about 1914, but in hope of better things we have not asked the public to share our burdens. But as needs have developed and have been met by successive increases in wages during the past two years, and material costs have advanced tremendously, factors have appeared that must affect our charges to the public. We do not ask for anything that will reduce in any material way the volume of travel or adversely affect the fortunes of any community."

The above is an application to the State Railroad Commission asking for an increase in passenger rates.

Personals

Mrs. Willis M. Kimball has been entertaining friends from San Francisco.

Margaret Crawford and her brother Harry, of Central avenue, this city, accompanied by Comrade Robert Taylor, have gone to Silver Lake today to fish.

Mrs. R. R. Boring and Miss Eva Smith of Nashville, Tenn., are the guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jackson of 102 South Maryland avenue, this city.

Dr. Emil Tholen of this city has been transferred from Camp Oglethorpe, Georgia, to New York. Mrs. Tholen, who has been with friends in Washington, will join him there. It is expected that the doctor will soon be sent overseas.

Miss Clara Whitney, a former resident of this city and an employee of the Telephone Company here, has gone to France as a telephone operator. She is a cousin of Miss Emma Moniot of 416 Fernando Court, and went from here to Philadelphia.

George Crosby and family have moved from 317 Adams street to the Glenwood Apartments, 334 Isabel street. The house they have vacated has been leased by Henry Six and family of St. Louis, who expect to make their permanent home in this city.

Fred Lefevre, who owns a garage on the outskirts of Burbank, and Nathan Smith of Englewood, were struck by a Southern Pacific train while crossing the tracks in an automobile at Roscoe this morning. They were removed to a Los Angeles hospital by the train crew and are so badly injured it is feared they will die. Their machine was wrecked. Lefevre was a married man.

The wedding of M. R. Lowe, a member of the Fire Department of this city and of Miss Mary Temperance Wilkes will be celebrated this evening at eight o'clock at the home of the bride, 721 East Acacia street. Miss Wilkes is very well known, especially in the Good Templars Lodge, in which she is a great worker. The marriage will be witnessed by the relatives and friends of the happy couple who will be followed by a host of good wishes.

Dr. J. E. Bahrenburg of 332 West Park avenue announces that he is giving up his office in Los Angeles and opening an office for general practice at his Park avenue home, where he expects soon to establish a sanitarium for chronic and nervous cases, which will not include patients suffering from tubercular troubles. The doctor and his wife have owned the property for about six years and have resided there a good part of that time.

The Moniot families in this city are anticipating the arrival today of Al Moniot, who was transferred from Camp MacArthur to a training school at Fort Winfield Scott, San Francisco, where he has been taking a course in electrical work. After enjoying a furlough here it is expected he will be transferred to some eastern camp. When he left Camp MacArthur to go north he was accompanied by Donald Packer, who is still there taking special training in another line of work.

Sergeant Clarence Edwards has turned in to the Red Cross Shop of Glendale a large ball of tin foil collected by a Belgian soldier boy at Fort Mac Arthur and turned over to the Sergeant when the Ammunition Train of which he was a member was called away. The Belgian was very much interested in the work of the Red Cross and gathered up all the tin foil he could from the cakes of chocolate, the gum and other delicacies sold at the canteen which are wrapped in tin foil.

The Red Cross Shop at 318 Brand boulevard is a place where some quite unusual things are to be found and where stock of greater variety is displayed than at any other market of trade in the city. Sometimes treasured trinkets find their way there, the gifts of patriots who wish to contribute to the cause. One such recently received is a unique watch fob made of abalone disks of graduated sizes and set in solid gold. Mrs. Boettner, chairman of the shop, values it highly and will be pleased to have visitors call and inspect it. She also wishes this paper to make known the fact that jewelry which can be sold or melted will be gladly received and the contributors will be given credit for their gifts. A contribution of interest recently received is a plaided black and red wool wedding shawl fifty years old, which was given by Mrs. De Muth.

CLASS CELEBRATION

Class A8-2, graduates from the Intermediate, were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of one of their number, Miss Doris Packer, on Riverdale drive. Thirty-six boys and girls participated in the festivities and several "grown-ups," including the teachers, Misses McPherson, Wetherby and Elizabeth Jackson. Mrs. Packer was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. R. W. Meeker. It was also a celebration of the birthday of Doris Packer, who had not expected that feature and was properly surprised when the birthday cake made its appearance. Some of the other cakes were not so much in evidence for two of them were boldly stolen from the kitchen while the party was in progress. The crime was attributed to envious members of other classes, but there was no evidence left by which the culprits could be located. The loss by no means dampened the spirits of the guests, who had a jolly time with the diversions that young people of that age enjoy and the affair did not break up until eleven o'clock.

BAPTISM OF INFANT

John Conrad Maul, Jr., infant son of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. John C. Maul, was baptized at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis, 241 South Kenwood street, Sunday, May 26th, by the Rev. C. Irving Mills, D. D., formerly Rector of St. Mark's Church. The sponsors were H. N. Strathoff, proxy for A. L. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lewis, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Maul. Lieut.-Col. Maul is a member of the Regular U. S. Army, being a graduate of West Point, and is at present in France with General Pershing.

LADIES' NIGHT

Saturday night will be Ladies' Night at the Elks' Club House, when the wives, daughters and friends of members will be entertained. A very delightful evening of cards, music, dancing, billiards, etc., is being planned by the entertainment committee, of which A. R. Dibern is chairman. It is expected that every Elk and his lady will come out to enjoy the party.

HONOR GRADUATES

The entertainment for graduates of the primary department of the Sunday School of the Glendale Presbyterian Church was a very nice affair. It took place Tuesday evening and the lecture room of the church was filled with children and their parents and friends. At 5:30 o'clock a dinner was served to the two classes (one of boys and one of girls) by their teachers, Mrs. Henry Lawrence and Mrs. W. F. Carmichael, assisted by Mrs. Roy D. King, superintendent of the primary. The evening's entertainment included scenes in a kind of military pantomime enacted by the children, with music between scenes furnished by Miss Marian Carmichael, pianist, and Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, violinist. There are twenty-two pupils in these graduating classes and they will receive their diplomas one week from next Sunday, or June 8th.

HONOR HOWARD MERRIKEN

Wednesday evening a group of High School friends of Howard Merriken met at the home of Miss Evelyn Williams, 1554 Stocker street to do him honor, preliminary to his soon leaving to join the navy. Dancing and other diversions were indulged in and refreshments were served. The guests were: Misses Dorothy Haig, Ruby Stone, Mildred Swenson, Ila Mae McClammy, Harriett Williams, Lois Webb, Eula May, Eva Green, Messrs. Paul Smith, Arthur McKenzie, Owen Showalter, Edward Newcomb, Fred Wilson, Clayton Card, Orville Williams, Jack Jenkins, and Howard Merriken.

UNIFORMS FOR WOMEN IN WAR WORK

The Committee on Public Information, division on women's war work, issues the following:

Twenty uniforms for women in war work are officially recognized in the United States at the present time. The women wearing them are munition workers, telephone and radio operators, yeomen, employees of the Shipping Board and the Food Administration, Red Cross workers, and the Young Women's Christian Association workers abroad, Woman's Motor Corps of New York, Girl Scouts, and students in the National Service School of the Woman's Naval Service, Washington, D. C.

The uniform prescribed by the War Department for munition workers consists of a blouse and specially designed overalls. Insignia to denote that the War Department recognizes these women as an important part of the military organization completes the costume. The War Department has officially recognized another uniform for women, that of the telephone unit of the United States Signal Corps. These girls wear navy blue uniforms with Norfolk style coats, blue "trench caps" for every day and sailor shapes of blue felt for "dress." On the collar are crossed flags, the insignia of the Signal Corps, and on the sleeve a band with a telephone mouthpiece embroidered in blue.

The Navy Department has not been behindhand in this matter. Its yeomen are provided with a Norfolk suit of navy blue serge, with brass buttons and the insignia of the yeomen in clerical service, crossed quills upon the sleeve. The waist is of beach cloth, tailored, and the hat a sailor of felt or rough straw. For summer white drill is substituted for serge.

The marine colors are used by the girl employees of the United States Shipping Board, who hope to keep cool in a uniform consisting of a forer green cotton gabardine skirt, white tennis waist, and green mushroom hat of straw. The flag of the Shipping Board is used as the insignia.

The uniform of the Food Administration is particularly adapted for summer. It is a one-piece dress of blue cotton, with a front which buttons either way. With it are worn cuffs which button on and a high-peaked cap of pique. The Food Administration insignia is worn on the sleeve.

The Red Cross authorizes 10 fundamental uniforms with varied sleeve bands and insignia to indicate different branches of the service. The nursing service includes four with variations. An outdoor uniform of blue serge, Norfolk style for winter and a lighter one for summer, a gray wash uniform used for foreign service and in the sanitary zones in the United States, and a white uniform used in the Army and Navy service in this country.

Exclusive of the nursing service there is one uniform for the Red Cross workers for foreign service and five for service in the United States. The uniform for foreign wear is of gray whipcord in Norfolk style, the eight different branches of the service being indicated by a different color on coat, collar, hat, and tie. In the United States the uniform for the workroom is white apron and colored veil, for the bureau of information and clerical service a gray apron and veil, and a horizon-blue apron and veil for canteen service. For outdoor canteen service a gray whipcord coat may be worn, and the motor service uniform for the United States also consists of a gray whipcord coat, a short skirt, and a close-fitting cap of the same material and tan canvas or tan leather leggings. In all cases the red cross is worn on sleeve or hat.

CARD OF THANKS

To the friends and neighbors, the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, we wish to express our thanks and appreciation for their kind assistance and beautiful flowers in this sad hour of death of our beloved husband and father.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Devine of this city, their son and two daughters wish to express their grateful thanks for kindnesses received from their many friends at the time of the death of their daughter, Lela Devine, May 26th, and of the tributes of regard and respect which were paid to her memory and which have helped them to bear their great loss.

Prominent among them is Loyalty to the Family. No high state of civilization can continue to live where the family life decays and perishes. And there can be no family life without family Loyalty.

1. In relation of husband wife. There are three kinds of husbands in the world, just as there are three kinds of wives. Traitors, slackers, and loyalists. Loyalty is nearly the equal of love, for I think I have seen men love and yet not be loyal. God pity such a man; he isn't much of a man. And I think I have seen a man loyal even after love ceased and I am persuaded he deserves credit for being loyal. At any rate, to be disloyal is to become a traitor. We hang such in national life.

2. There's a second place where the duty of loyalty is even more forgotten than in relation of husband and wife, Loyalty of Children to the Home.

How that needs to be taught today? Let a young man or woman once feel strongly that bond of loyalty to his own family, and just in proportion to its strength, it is going to hold him or her true through all the storms that beat upon the soul.

It is in the cultivation of that old spirit of loyalty and love for the family and the home where, I think, the remedy must be sought for the weakening of the family influence. Send a boy or girl out with that and surely it will be a girdle of strength.

These days of hurry, of pleasure, of multiplied calls for time, of looseness of home ties—these are dangerous times for us. The red lights of divorce, of infidelity to the home relation, of wayward children, etc., are danger signals we dare not run past.

III. Loyalty to the Church. What a claim she really has upon the devotion of men. There is scarcely a claim your country has upon you that the church doesn't have as much, and she has some even our country does not have.

We speak of freedom. The church has been the pioneer of freedom and won it even before our land.

Yes, this land of ours is sacred because of the blood of our fathers. But what of the long line of martyrs who have bought these precious privileges we now enjoy—of an open Bible, freedom to worship according to our own convictions?

We love our land because of its ideals, ideals of democracy and liberty and equality, etc. But does the church stand for any less noble ideals? She stands for all these and has made them the ideals of our nation! But, besides all these she stands for other, more emphatically than the country does; for righteousness and character, for reverence and faith in God, for comfort of soul and hope in a life to come.

And, it is because of her high ideals that we plead for loyalty to nation. We have even a stronger incentive to be loyal to our church. It is recognized where men know as the highest institution in our land, its supreme factor in morals and holiness.

And, besides, to the man who believes in Jesus at all, it comes authorized by all He did and said. He gave himself for it. It is his bride—He called it so. It sends his message to the wide, wide world, it is his exponent. So, I can not see for the life of me how one can say he is loyal to Jesus Christ and at the same time is not loyal to His church. Can't lay much claim to loyalty to God.

In all these relations there are traitors, slackers and loyalists.

There are men loyal to none of these. Some men loyal to one or two. A true man is loyal to all. His loyalty in one doesn't lessen loyalty to the other. A questionnaire would reveal loyal churchmen, loyal to others out of all proportion to those out of church. Such a man is a power. He rejoices as a strong man to run a race. He is girded with loyalty.

DANIEL T. HARP

Daniel T. Harp was born in Frederick County, Md., September 1, 1842, and died at his home, 324 South Isabel street, Glendale, Calif., May 27, 1918, being at his death aged 75 years, 8 months and 26 days. He lived in Maryland and Ohio during his young manhood and in 1878 removed to Missouri, where he lived until 1899. He was married October 5, 1881, to Alma B. Overstreet. To them were born five children, all of whom, with the wife, remain to mourn this loss. The children are Clarence M. Taft, Cal.; Frank H. Hutchinson, Kansas; Arthur H., Fresno, Cal.; Charles V., Los Angeles, and Mrs. John R. Seadler of Fresno, Cal. All except Frank H. were with him during his last illness and at his death.

Mr. Harp moved to Kansas in 1899, living first at Anthony and later at Hutchinson. He came to California in 1911, residing at Fresno, then at Reedley, coming to Glendale last August.

He united with the M. E. Church, South, in 1879 and was a member of that denomination till his removal to Kansas. Finding no church of that brotherhood, he united with the Christian Church and had been a member of that church up to the time of his death.

Burial will be made in the Forest Lawn Cemetery of Glendale.

SUNLAND

Last Friday evening Cecil Percey entertained the cast of the senior play, "Green Stockings," which very recently was so delightfully staged at Glendale Union High School, of which he was a member, at his home, Hermosa Vista Ranch. Miss Lusky very beautifully rendered one of her most welcome solos and Cecil Percey played one of his baritone solos. The color scheme of green and white, the class colors, was carried out in both decorations and refreshments, with little green stockings as favors. Those who enjoyed the evening were the Misses Anabel McClellan, Jane Snyder, Jessie Shepard, Norma Lorbeer and Margaret Lusby, and the Messrs. Dolliver Webb, Ronald Greenwalt, Wilber Lee, Merle Davis, Milton Brown and Berna Martin.

The Monte Vista school closed for the summer vacation Wednesday. The school room was beautifully decorated in roses and ferns. The exercises were opened by the bugle call by Russel Blumfield. The play, "Pied Piper," was given by the pupils of the school and was well rendered, showing careful training by the teachers. A piano duet by Miss Jones and Lita Adams, a solo by Leon Percey, solo by Wilma Harget, solo by Lita Adams, song by Miss Jones, Winifred Herron and Lita Adams completed the program. When Mr. Lancaster, president of the school board, in a few well-chosen words presented the diplomas to the three graduates from the eighth grade, Miss Winifred Herron, Miss Lita Adams and Geronimo Silva. A large number of friends of the teachers from Los Angeles attended the exercises. The teachers left Wednesday evening for their homes in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hitchcock of Glendale were callers at the home of Fred Herron Thursday. They took Grandma Hitchcock to the Decoration Day exercises at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston A. Bastansburg, accompanied by Mr. Bastansburg's mother and cousin, were callers at the home of Geo. E. Huse on Thursday.

The shower of rain which greeted Sunland Wednesday night refreshed the gardens and orchards. The hay fields suffered slight damage.

The fence is being put up around the park and will be a great improvement.

Rev Lymes of Pasadena, accompanied by friends, motored to Sunland after watching the troops march into Los Angeles, and ate their lunch under the oaks in the beautiful Sunland park.

At the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Sunday evening Miss Irene Lancaster and Miss Gladys Huse were appointed delegates to attend the state convention at Sacramento in July.

The topic for the Christian Endeavor Sunday evening, June 2nd, is "Christian Duty and Privilege." Service in church and community. Mark 12:28-34. (Consecration meeting.) Leader, Elmer Adams. A cordial welcome to all young people.

Rev. Long of Hermosa Beach, who with his wife and children are living in the house of Wm. Blumfield on Hill street, says the climate in Sunland is greatly benefiting him.

The kiddies will soon enjoy the swings in the park which have been arranged for and will soon be erected.

Tomatoes, tomatoes, everybody plant tomatoes, is the instruction given by A. Adams, Jr., proprietor of the cannery.

TUJUNGA

The young people of the Endeavor Society held a "wienerwurst roast" last Saturday eve in Blanchard Canyon. Misses Alice and Helen Green of Glendale were the guests of honor.

Mrs. Pancher and Miss Rhodeheaver went to Pasadena with Red Cross work on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Brown. Part of the day was spent at Busch's Gardens and though pleasant was somewhat cool for picnicking. They reported rain most of the way home and some bits of hail.

Mrs. E. Deming Smith and daughter Viola were guests of C. C. Buck over Sunday. Mrs. Smith has been here for a few days packing her household goods and shipping them to Chicago, her future home.

Mr. Gibson, son-in-law of Mr. Martinson who died a short time ago, was here on Monday to look after the disposal of Mr. Martinson's household goods.

The stores and postoffice were closed on Decoration Day.

Don't forget the "Senior Club" dancing party on Saturday night, June 2nd. These dances are always well attended and very enjoyable. Let all turn out and have a good time.

The ladies of the Episcopal Church Guild held their regular meeting on Tuesday with Mrs. Mendenhall on Stephens way. There was a good turn out and much work finished up.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Doane are shipping some of their goods north near Berkeley, where they will soon go to spend the summer with their son Arthur and his wife.

Charles Frye and Mrs. Norton, of the Hotel Alexandria's force, were week-end guests of Mrs. Fortinier. Mr. Frye returned on Tuesday but Mrs. Norton will remain until the end of the week.

A slight sprinkling of rain visited the Valley on Tuesday, but not a sufficient amount to be of any value to growing gardens. The weather still remains cloudy and cool.

The Ladies' Aid will hold its next session with Mrs. B. Barclay at her home in Los Angeles on June 7th. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. Hoffman brought in a very large potato of the Early Rose variety, the first of the season. Potatoes everywhere are looking fine, but other garden stuff grows slowly. Let us have more sunshine. May was never more "capricious and fickle" than the present month and we will soon be glad to say good-bye to her.

The Red Cross sewing bee was largely attended last week and work on hand finished ready to turn in. New work was brought in Tuesday, so there is plenty for all who come. Bring your lunch and have a good time.

On Sunday evening an auto containing two young men and two girls passed down the new highway at a breakneck speed, and in turning off on Manzanita drive the car struck the deep sand and was turned over. No one was seriously hurt and the parties seemed in great haste to get away before giving their names. A broken top and windshield still lie by the roadside as a memento of their accident. Such reckless driving should in some way be stopped for the benefit of the careful ones.

Miss Reiley of Los Angeles has rented Mrs. Storm's place on Sunset boulevard and hopes to remain for some time in our midst.

The calamity howlers in our midst are doing more to prevent newcomers from buying than anything else. These same people want to sell their property and do not stop to think they are hurting their own sale, for if they can not live here how can any one else? These kickers usually are on the stage and air their grievances to strangers, in this way hurting their best interests. Now we have a fine climate, the best of drinking water and plenty for irrigation. A nice community, close to Los Angeles, a part of it but not in its tax list. Why is it that instead of kicking we don't take hold and boost, remembering that's it "your town and my town"? Let's boost it and make it a grand success.

LA CRESCENTA

The Red Cross drive netted $1,176.25. We went over our quota of $1000. Kindly send check for your pledges to Red Cross headquarters, Pasadena.

Carl Andersen and family have gone east for a brief trip. Walter has answered the call to the colors.

Pierre Escalle, who recently traded his 10-acre ranch in Crescanta, is moving to Beaumont this week.

Mrs. Owsley and Miss Bissell of Pasadena Red Cross spent part of last Thursday and Tuesday afternoons with our local classes.

Mrs. Miller reports quite a number of new books in the library just arrived from the head library.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldrige entertained at dinner on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Nettleton and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Thomas.

Mrs. Lewenstein was hurriedly called to Glendale by the serious illness of Mr. Lewenstein, who passed away Friday morning.

Only two weeks more of school. The graduates are working like beavers. There will also be prizes awarded to the pupil or pupils in any grade who have not missed a session during the whole term.

The Red Cross members spent Wednesday at the Pasadena chapter, had luncheon and inspected the work and stock rooms.

The cabaret dance last Saturday given by the Women's Club, put $168.29 in the Red Cross Fund and everybody had such a good time. The talent was all professional and was greatly enjoyed. Homer Grunn, the pianist, was without exception the finest exponent of his art we have ever had. Miss Nell Lockwood sang a number of selections most delightfully and Robert Alter's renditions on the cello a memory to cherish. Miss Pauline Maron gave four beautiful dances during the evening with entire change of costume. Altogether the program was the most artistic and finished affair we have ever produced and our committee deserves great thanks for the treat given us.

Next Tuesday at our picture show we will have a comedy night, Luke the Plumber in a rip-roaring two-reeler with a laugh in every flash, and "Old Pals," another screamer, and in addition to these a Pathe war film that will make your blood tingle and you will cheer when the boys go drowned. When Maritz knew that his fellow conspirator was no more, he fled to the German colony in Southwest Africa, and when government officials went through the papers left by General Beyers, the Kaiser's agreement and the whole conspiracy were revealed. The only member left to carry it on was General Dewet, a man of comparatively little influence among the Dutch. He too started to escape with his handful of followers across the wide veldt on horseback. He was followed by Colonel Britz of the loyal forces and a company of men in motor trucks which were kept moving day and night by relays of drivers. Dewet and his men were kept going with no chance to rest until they threw up their hands in surrender. Mr. Anderson was in Kimberly and was for several hours on the train which carried the captives and says they were the hardest looking men he ever beheld. Meanwhile the local army recruited from the Kaffirs and Dutch made war under the British flag on the German colonies in Southwest Africa and took them. The natives are keen and discerning, they have had a chance to test German rule and do not want any more of it, so the task of taking over the territory was not difficult. General Smuts also led troops to the German colonies on the east coast, which were also taken.

LIFE IN AFRICA

Mr. Anderson states that English rule is now welcomed all over Africa. Not only have the Dutch been governed wisely and well, but the black man has been protected as never before. In the old days the dominant tribes raided the smaller ones and made slaves of their wives and children. The English put a stop to that and the Kaffir now enjoys the fruits of his labor and dwells in security. The Germans, he says, have never been successful with colonies because Prussianism does not commend itself to the heathen. They would never be able, in his opinion, to win over such powerful tribes as the Zulus and Basutos and turn them against the English. They know what the Germans have done in South Africa and have no mind to place themselves under their iron heel.

These natives who live so close to nature are wonderfully shrewd. Their thinking is direct and sure, and their way is yea and nay without tricky contortions of the truth. When a man or a government makes a bargain with them or promises certain things, they expect those promises to be kept, and woe to that government if the promises are broken, for the native doesn't forget. Mr. Anderson says they are the keenest of men to unerringly discern character. Let a white man employ a native for a week and by the end of that time the native will have accurately sized him up as a man and given him a name descriptive of his character; the name sticks and advertises him among all the native population.

Cecil Rhodes, whom Mr. Anderson declares was the greatest statesman South Africa has ever had and the type of man who comes only once in a generation, was tremendously loved and admired by the natives. If a tribe rebelled, by the strength of his own personality and his hold on the confidence of the people he was able to go alone and unarmed to the council of the warring tribes and dictate terms of peace which would be kept inviolate. When he died, 25,000 natives walked in from great distances to attend his funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have been missionaries for twenty-three years. They returned at this time that Mrs. Anderson might have needed medical treatment and will sail for the land of their affections in about two weeks from San Francisco, going by way of Japan. Their first ministry for nine years was in Southern Rhodesia. They then went north to labor among the Batongas. They were the first missionaries in that field and it has been Anderson's task to reduce their language to writing and teach them all they know. To reach the field they had to travel 1850 miles inland from the coast, 1200 of those miles on foot, the rest by ox team. They now have the whole of the New Testament in the language of the Batongas, they have a book on marching by. You need to see it better than I can write of it.

Saturday, June 1, there will be a tea at the home of Mrs. Culbertson, Michigan and Los Angeles, from 3 to 5. There will be hats for sale from 35 cents to $2.00, proceeds for the Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Woolsey are preparing to build on their acreage on Mayfield avenue.

Fred Good has completed his chicken runs and moved into his place on Altura avenue.

Mrs. Miller had as guests for luncheon Mrs. Joe Hawkins and Walter, who is home for a furlough.

Exercises for Children's Day at Sunday School are under way. The exact date will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin will remain at their Crescanta home from now on till fall.

Have you registered? See Mr. Pinkus.

And last of all, buy Thrift Stamps, today, tomorrow, every day. They pay a good rate of interest, don't forget that.

the science of common things, a book on physiology and hygiene. Their schools are packed with natives and are supplemented by schools taught by natives whom they have trained. The people, particularly the younger generation who are ambitious to improve, are so eager to learn that they are forced to turn away hundreds who apply for a chance to enter the schools. At the end of a year in school the average native is able to read the New Testament intelligently.

Every mission station in South Africa, Mr. Anderson explained, is an industrial school. When he went there he found the natives scratching the soil with their primitive hoes and planting their corn in shallow trenches. If the rains were abundant they had a crop, if not, they starved. He has taught them intensive agriculture and introduced modern implements. Now there is no native village which does not have its Oliver and Deere plows and its trained oxen. Instead of being on the verge of starvation they are selling grain by the carload. They are wearing modern clothing and buying many things from English and American manufacturers.

Mr. Brice, former British Ambassador to the United States, made a statement which Mr. Anderson quoted, to the effect that every missionary who had been among the heathen ten years was worth 10,000 pounds to the British trade.

Mr. Anderson has also taught them to make and burn bricks and build substantial houses to replace the low, rude adobe huts thatched with grass in which they formerly burrowed.

Those who are adventurous to see the world, go to the rich copper mines in the southern part of the Congo Free State, where they receive the to them enormous wage of $5. to $15 per month and board, or go to the gold mines in the Transvaal, which, by the way, give every evidence of having been known to the Phoenicians and other ancient peoples. The ruins found there are like those of Tyre and Sidon, but those early miners could not reduce the low grade ore. All the most prominent paying mines of Southern Rhodesia have simply taken up the quartz where the ancient dropped it and gone on with modern methods.

Mr. Anderson is an Elder in the Adventist Church and is at the head of the work in the big field in which he is laboring in South Africa. Although a very modest, unpretending man, he has high rank in the church to which he belongs.
